

CHARACTER & CITIZENSHIP EDUCATION (CCE)

DEPARTMENT

VISION

GESSians who can know the Good, desire the Good and do the Good

MISSION

To impart knowledge, inculcate values and develop skills in GESSians to know, desire and do the Good

SIGNATURE PROGRAMMES

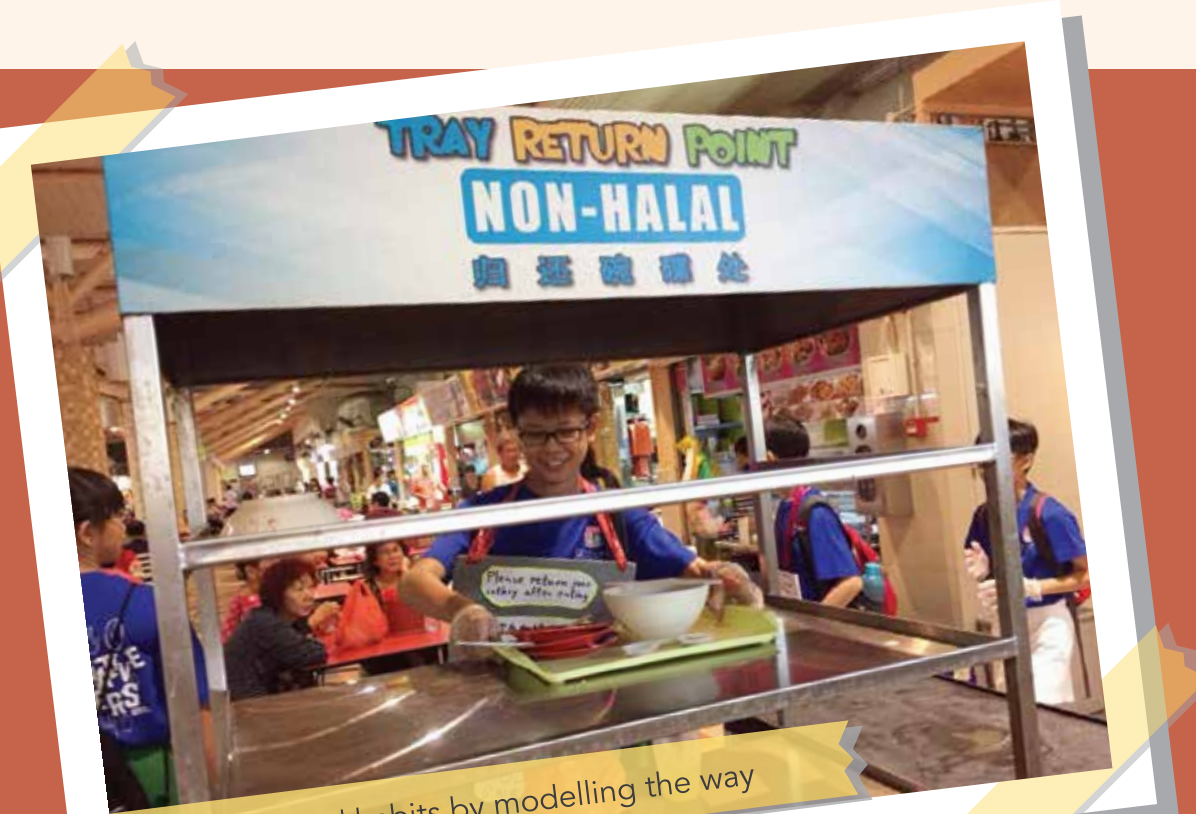

SEC 1

Discover self, develop confidence

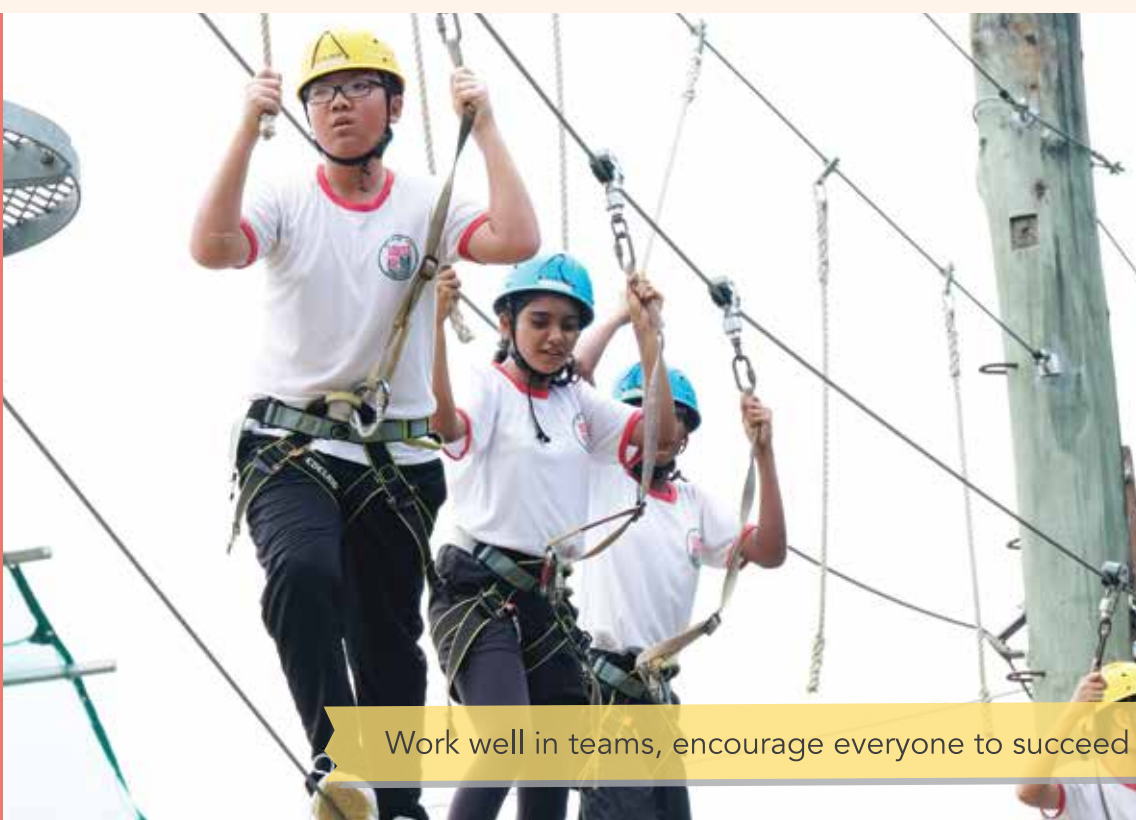

Exploring self in a transitional phase

Students will discover who they are, and their identity in family, school, community, nation and cyber world. They will discover their individual strengths and weaknesses and accept who they are. They will strive to become more independent and resilient individuals to stand up what is right, and to become more concerned citizens.

Encourage good habits by modelling the way

SEC 2

Work well in teams, encourage everyone to succeed

Knowing and relating well with others

Students will discover the uniqueness of individuals, learn to respect life and individuals, and accept one another's differences. They will build positive peer relationships, relate well with one another, live in harmony through learning how to resolve conflicts, influence one another to make a positive impact and support one another to succeed.

Educate the public on kidney health

SEC 3

Encourage the heart through small kind acts

Gaining responsibilities and ownership

Students will understand the need to take on greater roles and responsibilities to lead self and others. They will build up resilience in managing complexities and overcome life challenges. They will be involved in responsible decision making to make good informed choices to make a positive difference in family, school, and the community.

Train peers on emergency preparedness

SEC 4/5

Discover learning interest and possible career options

Making critical choice

Students will prepare themselves for the post-secondary phase and understand the demands of their future in areas of career, professionalism, relationship, marriage, and parenting. They will develop life skills, confidence and resilience to embrace the future ahead, and pursue their aspirations by anchoring deeply in values.

There is always time to make someone's day